DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Claim 1 now says "listening, at a first which is", etc. which is even more unclear. However, in substance, the 112 rejection was made because it seems impossible to listen to a device that is not a current component of the network. Listening to the device makes it part of the network without more detail. In response to applicant's arguments, the subtle differences are obvious based on the teachings of the references. Thus, Applicant's arguments can not be held as persuasive regarding patentability.
